Hello,

Greetings and Happy New Year. Thank you for your friendship, trust and business in 2009. We look forward to an exciting year of travel in 2010 and we sincerely hope you will allow us the opportunity to assist you once again in making happy memories while on vacations. Remember we are dedicated to providing an excellent quality tour experience along with great customer service, all coupled with good value.

“How’s Business?” This is the question that is on everyone’s mind. We hear it from our colleagues, people we hardly know, and our clients, (I prefer to call them Friends.) We hear it at church, at business meetings, and on trips. Most people anticipate the worst, and are pleasantly surprised to hear good news. Thanks to all of you, business is fine for Custom Holidays. Fortunately our friends have not lost their jobs, or had their homes in foreclosure, and are still traveling to destinations close by as well as far away. Not only is your travel good for our company, but hotels, restaurants, bus companies, and attractions benefit from your willingness to travel. Thanks, again.

I am really sorry if you missed the Ireland Trip. We had such a great time sight-seeing, and eating, and shopping, and we had the most congenial group. The weather was not as good as the last time, but it was not horrible either. If, I knew at least 10 people were interested in going in 2010, I would plan another trip there in a skinny minute. Talk to me about going.

We also have a July 2010 New York City trip that will be staying at the Holiday Inn Express 45 st & 5th Ave. It will be 5 days and cost 1/2 as much as last year’s trip, but it will be a bare bones tour. No meals or attractions, just transportation and hotel accommodations. It’s for repeat visitors. If you haven’t gone before, wait for the August NYC trip. It includes meals, attractions, and tours, and stays at Times Square. We are planning to lunch at the Tavern on the Green if it will be back up and operating by that time. Register early.

Please look over other trips for 2010. Actually all trips need your immediate attention. Especially look at the Tall Ships trip in July, we need to make non refundable deposits on that trip soon and would love to know if people are interested before we jump in with both feet. Sometimes we cancel a tour and the next week several of you call saying you want to go. We cry because we are stuck with our decision, and there is not much we can do.

Take good care of yourselves, use good judgement, trust God, and work on that “bucket list” this winter and spring.

Remember, when you travel with me as the tour manager, no tip is necessary, I own the company. However, when you travel with one of my assistants, if indeed they have made the trip more pleasant by doing special little things for you, please be generous with your gratuity. Thanks.

Sue Biggs
